About Gibraltar

LOCATION & SIZE

Gibraltar is situated at the southern tip of the Iberian Peninsula. It is recognised historically as the southernmost point of Europe and is also strategically positioned at the western end of the Mediterranean, forming one of the ancient Pillars of Hercules. The nearby countries are Spain to the north and Morocco (North Africa) to the south, on the other side of the strait 24 kilometres (15 miles) away. The Rock is mainly Jurassic Limestone some 200 million years old.

- Latitude: 36 7' North, longitude 5 21' West.
- Height: 426m (1400ft).
- Length: 5 km (3.10 miles) approx.
- Area: 6.8sq km (2.7 sq miles) approx.
- Circumference Length: 16 km (10 miles) approx.

LANGUAGE

The official language is English and all residents follow the British education curriculum, sitting their GCSE's and A'Levels as they would in mainland UK. However, Spanish is widely spoken, in fact it is the unusual unofficial 'dialect' call 'Yanito', a mixture of English, Spanish and some Italian words, which is frequently spoken among the locals.
